

Organizations to honor contributions to diversity

Several opportunities to attend professional military minority organization meetings and recognize leaders in diversity are available through the spring and summer months.

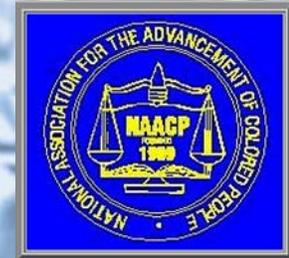

- The Federal Asian Pacific American Council holds its national leadership conference May 17–21 in San Francisco and will present their Meritorious Service Award to a military member.

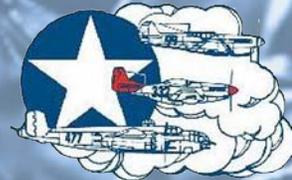

- The National Image 2004 Conference/Symposium, which recognizes the contributions of Hispanics, is June 6-12 in Orlando, Fla., and will present awards to two members of each branch of service.

- The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People holds a military banquet June 10 in Washington, D.C., and will present a military member or civilian with the Roy Wilkins Service Award.

- The Tuskegee Airmen Inc. will recognize military personnel nominated for various awards at their annual national convention in Omaha, Neb., Aug. 2-7. For more information, visit <http://tuskegeeairmen.org>.

Additional questions on these conferences or their award nomination processes may be directed to the Navy Equal Opportunity Office at (901) 874-3881 (DSN 882) or e-mail: jeff.burrell@navy.mil.
