

Officer Applications Sought for Navy Nurse Corps MECP

The Navy's Nurse Corps is seeking applications for its fiscal year 2005 Medical Enlisted Commissioning Program (MECP) selection board scheduled for DEC. 13, 2004.

"Eligible active-duty enlisted Sailors and Marines have an excellent opportunity through MECP to obtain a commission as a Navy Nurse," said Beverly Kemp, program manager for enlisted commissioning programs at Naval Medical Education Training Command.

"I encourage all who are interested to find out more about the process of attending to the needs of Sailors and Marines while serving as a Navy Nurse," said Kemp.
